ISSUES TO BE DISCUSSED AT THE CONFERENCE

The Second International Scientific Conference on the “Legal and Social Aspects of Upbringing in the 21st Century. The Treats, Hopes and Challenges” pertains to a socially significant problematic aspects of the necessary changes in the process of child and youth upbringing in the light of contemporary age challenges.

The conference encompasses a wide thematic scope. The topics relating to the legal aspects of upbringing to be touched upon shall cover the topics of the pedagogy of law, legal socialization, safeguarding the child’s rights in a proper way, legal regulations that guarantee the child’s safety, and decent social being. The social aspect of the discussion topics will mainly concern the threats to the child’s upbringing relating to the undergoing intense social changes and actions undertaken in order to provide the sense of security in the child. In turn, the philosophical and legal context will encompass upbringing toward values, so indispensable for the proper social development of the children. Particular attention will be paid to the prevention of risky behavior of children and youth.

THEMATIC PANEL MAIN TOPICS

- I. The Role of the State in the Social Life versus the Impact of Globalization on the Process of Upbringing.
- II. Education towards Justice and Rule of Law, Education towards Peace.
- III. Safety and Welfare Sphere.
- IV. Children and the Youth within the Area of Social Life.
- V. Actions by the Third Sector in the Interests of the Safety and of the Children and Youth’s Upbringing.
- VI. The Social Prevention of the Risky Behaviour of the Children and Youth.
- VII. Students on Upbringing and Safety.

AIMS OF THE CONFERENCE

The aim of the conference is to initiate some reflexion of international dimension resulting from the need of a more in-depth interpretation of the area relating to the issue of upbringing (in the legal and social aspect), taking into account the threats for the proper process of upbringing. These threats are originating from the changing reality of the 21st century and from the new challenges with regard to providing a sense of security. Considerations over the issues as described in the problematic aspects of the conference ought to contribute to finding answers to some questions the tutors, parents, entities responsible for drafting and implementing legal regulations are faced with, and finally to questions the local and international society is faced with, regarding the process of upbringing in today's difficult environment, in which the child grows-up.

The problem, how diversified in terms of topics that will be covered during discussions in plenary sessions as well as during discussion sessions, will create an opportunity to exchange information, disseminate research results and multidimensional cooperation between the national and foreign scientists.

The conference will be interdisciplinary. The invitation to participate is addressed to all researchers and practitioners interested, representing different scientific disciplines, who undertake effort to upbringing new generations and educate them, and who engage in the activities that give rise to the issues among the society, that will be touched upon during the conference. We do hope that it will also reach our decision makers responsible for creating educational and up-bringing policy and the safety policy, as well as the students from many fields of study. The meeting of the people of the world of science and practitioners, as well as of the people representing the mature generation with rich professional experience, with the youth on the threshold of choosing their own life path and the career path will create some common ground for discussion. It will also deepen and popularise the knowledge among the participants with regard to the threats and the ways of providing assistance, as well as adopting multidimensional actions to prevent all phenomena that lead to perceptions of insecurity in all aspects, and to promote positive values in children and youth's upbringing.
